Defendants Original Productions, LLC ("Original"), the producer of the Series, and A&E Television Networks, LLC ("AETN"), the distributor of the Series, would like the public to believe that the Series presents a genuine and accurate portrayal of the abandoned storage locker auction process. The truth, however, is that nearly every aspect of the Series is faked, even down to the plastic surgery that one of the female cast members underwent in order to create more "sex appeal" for the show, the cost of which was paid for by Original. Original regularly "salts" the storage lockers that are the subject of the auctions portrayed on the Series with valuable or unusual items to add dramatic effect, even going so far as to stage entire storage units. Original also manipulates the outcome of certain auctions by paying for storage units on behalf of the weaker cast members who lack the both the skill and financial wherewithal to place winning bids.

Hester was not comfortable participating in this charade. Hester complained to 4. senior production staff at both Original and AETN (collectively "Defendants"), as well as to Original's Executive Vice President of Business and Legal Affairs that he believed that Original's salting and staging of the storage lockers was unfair, unethical and possibly illegal conduct. After Original had notified Hester that it was engaging him to render services on the upcoming Cycle of the Series just one (1) week prior to Hester voicing his complaints, Defendants responded to Hester's complaints by firing him from the Series. Because Defendants are unwilling to produce and distribute a program that honestly portrays the auction process, they decided to get rid of Hester when he objected to Defendants' fraudulent and deceitful conduct.

 Defendants have no right to terminate Hester's employment on the Series under these circumstances, and Defendants' wrongful and tortious conduct has resulted in damages to Hester in excess of $750,000.

PARTIES

- 6. Plaintiff David Hester ("Hester" or "Plaintiff") is, and at all relevant times was, an individual doing business in the County of Orange, State of California.
- 7. Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon alleges that Defendant Original Productions, LLC ("Original") is, and at all relevant times was, a limited liability company organized and existing under the laws of the State of California, doing business in the County of Los Angeles, State of California.
- 8. Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon alleges that Defendant A&E Television Networks, LLC ("AETN") is, and at all relevant times was, a limited liability company organized and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware, doing business in the County of Los Angeles, State of California.
- 9. Plaintiff is presently unaware of the true names and capacities of the defendants sued herein as Does 1 through 10, inclusive, and, therefore, sues said defendants by such fictitious names. Plaintiff will amend this Complaint to allege the true names and capacities of such fictitiously-named defendants when the same have been ascertained. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon alleges, that each of the fictitiously-named defendants is responsible in some manner for the occurrences, acts and omissions alleged herein and that Plaintiff's damages were proximately caused by their conduct.
- 10. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and based thereon alleges, that each defendant at all times mentioned in this Complaint was the agent, employee, partner, joint venturer, co conspirator, and/or employer of the other defendants and was at all times herein mentioned acting within the course and scope of that agency, employment, partnership, conspiracy, ownership or joint venture. Plaintiff is further informed and believes, and thereon alleges, that the acts and conduct herein alleged of each defendant was known to, authorized by and/or ratified by the other defendants, and each of them.

FACTS COMMON TO ALL CAUSES OF ACTION

- 11. For twenty-six (26) years, Hester has been in the professional buying business, attending public auctions where the contents of abandoned storage lockers are sold to the highest bidder. Hester has operated a highly successful business re-selling those items at his own consignment and thrift shops, however, due to the demands of working on the Series Hester has had to close his storefronts and now operates his business re-selling items online through e-Bay, Amazon.com and Craig's List.
- 12. Hester is also one of the principal cast members on the Series. Hester was engaged to render services on the Series pursuant to a written Talent Agreement dated June 24, 2010, as amended October 19, 2010, December 30, 2010, June 7, 2011, July 29, 2011, August 18, 2011 and February 24, 2012 (hereinafter the "Agreement"). Pursuant to the Agreement, Hester was first engaged to render services in connection with Cycle 1 of the Series for a period of approximately six (6) weeks commencing in June 2010 (Cycle 1 was ultimately extended to 26 episodes, produced over a period of eight months, and Cycles 2 and 3 were also 26 episode cycles). Thereafter, Defendants had five (5) exclusive options to engage Hester's services for subsequent cycles of the Series.

  Defendants exercised their first and second options under the Agreement, and Hester performed in Cycle 2 and Cycle 3 of the Series.
- another to bid in public auctions for the contents of abandoned storage lockers. Prior to each auction, Hester and the other prospective bidders are permitted only a brief glimpse inside the storage locker, after which they compete against one another to place the winning bid in an auction of the contents of the locker. The audience then watches in suspense as the winning bidder sifts through the contents of the storage locker he or she has acquired to determine whether it contains any "hidden treasure" or whether the winning bidder has just won a locker full of junk with no value. Viewers of the Series are led to believe that, other than the cursory glance into the locker immediately before the bidding starts, the lockers have been sealed and their contents completely unknown to the participants until after the auction.

- 14. Since the participants on the Series frequently discover valuable items or other items of interest inside the storage units, despite the fact that the odds of an abandoned storage unit containing anything of value are very slim, many viewers have questioned whether the valuable items are planted in the units for dramatic effect. In response, AETN issued the following press release: "There is no staging involved. The items uncovered in the storage units are the actual items featured on the show." That was a lie.
- 15. The truth is that Defendants regularly salt or plant the storage lockers that are the subject of the auctions portrayed on the Series with valuable or unusual items to create drama and suspense for the show. Defendants have even gone so far as to stage entire storage units, and will enlist the cooperation of the owners of the storage facilities to stage entire units. The producers of the Series have scheduled appraisals of items in the storage lockers several weeks before they are supposedly "discovered" by the cast member who wins the particular auction. Hester is informed and believes that a company called Off the Wall Antiques provides Defendants access to an entire warehouse full of marquee items, and in exchange, the owners of that establishment are regularly featured on the Series. Hester is informed and believes that Off the Wall Antiques is generously compensated for the items from its warehouse that are shown on the Series.
- Interviews with the cast members are scripted in advance. While on location filming an auction, Defendants also film footage of the cast members and the public bidding when no actual auction is taking place, in order to make it appear that any of the cast members is bidding at any given auction, whether or not he or she is actually bidding on the unit. Although the Series shows cast members who have won storage units at auction "breaking away" from the rest of the cast to inspect the contents of the unit during the auction, this never occurs. Typically the winning bidder will not inspect the contents of the unit he or she has acquired until after the auction is completed or the following day. In addition, Original pays for the storage lockers bid on by certain cast members, but not others, in order to give the weaker cast members an advantage over the more experienced and successful bidders such as Hester.

- During Cycle 1 of the Series, Defendants requested that Hester provide valuable items that would be planted by Defendants in the storage lockers acquired by Hester. Although Hester initially agreed to do so, he soon realized that he did not want to participate in this fraudulent conduct. Hester complained to Dolph Scott ("Scott"), a Co-Executive Producer of the Series, and in response Defendants no longer requested that Hester provide items to be planted in the storage lockers.
- 18. At the beginning of Cycle 2, Defendants continued to salt the storage units and Hester again complained to Scott. Defendants' response to Hester's complaint was that they stopped salting only those storage units acquired by Hester, but continued to salt the storage units acquired by other cast members. In so doing, Defendants' manipulated the outcome of the auctions and made it appear that the other cast members were more skillful bidders since they routinely purchased lockers containing valuable items and Hester did not.
- 19. During Cycle 1 and Cycle 2, when Hester or one of the other cast members on the Series won the contents of a storage locker in the auction, that individual would use his or her own lock to secure the contents of the storage locker until he or she had the opportunity to review the contents of the locker. However, in Cycle 3, Defendants insisted on using their own locks on the storage lockers portrayed in the Series. Consequently, because Defendants exercised sole control of the parties' access to the storage units that were the subject of the auction, any salting of those storage units occurred outside of Hester's presence and without his knowledge. However, it was obvious that Defendants were continuing to salt the storage units, including those purchased by Hester. When Hester would examine the contents of storage lockers he acquired, Original's production staff would prod him to "check out" certain boxes or direct him to unload his unit in such a way that he would be certain to "discover" particular items that Defendants clearly knew had been planted in the unit.

- On September 6, 2012, one week after Defendants gave written notification to Hester that they were exercising the option under the Agreement to engage Hester's services for Cycle 4 of the Series, Hester, along with some of the other cast members of the Series, participated in a meeting with Neil Cohen, AETN's Senior Vice President, Talent & Production ("Cohen"). During that meeting, Hester complained that he believed that it was illegal for Defendants to continue to salt the storage units. The other cast members present agreed with Hester that Defendants' conduct was inappropriate and possibly illegal.
- 22. Thereafter, Hester and the rest of the cast of the Series met with Cohen, Jeff Bumgarner, the Series Producer ("Bumgarner"), and Ernest Avila, Original's Executive Vice President, Business and Legal Affairs ("Avila"). During that meeting, Bumgarner became angry and stated that he did not want to hear anything further about salting storage units. Cohen admitted that he was aware of the salting issue, but did not realize that the salting was occurring to the extent described by Hester. Avila responded to Cohen and identified two AETN executives who he indicated knew the scope of the salting issue and who had been aware that the storage units were salted from the beginning of the Series.
- 23. Following the meeting, on September 18, 2012, Hester's entertainment attorney, Stephen Barnes ("Barnes"), sent a letter to Avila requesting on behalf of Hester that Defendants agree to indemnify Hester in connection with any third party claims regarding the authenticity of the auction process and the Series. Defendants response to this request was to fire Hester from the Series.
- 24. On October 1, 2012, Avila sent a letter to Hester notifying him that Defendants were purportedly rescinding their exercise of the option to engage Hester's services on Cycle 4 of the Series. Avila's letter cited Barnes' September 18, 2012 letter in which Barnes had requested, among other things, that Defendants indemnify Hester in connection with claims arising from Defendants' fraudulent conduct as one of the reasons for Defendants' decision.

25. Defendants have no right under the Agreement or California law to rescind their exercise of the option to engage Hester's services on Cycle 4 of the Series. It is obvious that the reason for Defendants' purported rescission of their exercise of the option is that Defendants are retaliating against Hester for complaining that he believed Defendants were engaging in illegal and improper conduct.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Wrongful Termination in Violation of Public Policy Against all Defendants)

- 26. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations of Paragraphs 1 through 25 above, and incorporates those allegations herein by reference.
- 27. Hester's employment on the Series was terminated by Defendants in violation of the fundamental public policy of the State of California since he was terminated as a result of his complaint to Cohen, Bumgarner and Avila that he believed Defendants were engaging in illegal, unethical and improper conduct.
- As set forth above, the actions and conduct of Defendants were wrongful and in violation of the fundamental principals of the public policy of the State of California as reflected in its laws, objectives and policies.
- 29. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' conduct, Hester has suffered general and special damages for, inter alia, the loss of the compensation he would have received in connection with Cycle 4 of the Series, in an amount in excess of Seven Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000), according to proof at the time of trial.
- 30. Hester is informed and believes and based thereon allege that the above-described conduct of Defendants was willful and intentional and done with malice, fraud and oppression, and constitutes despicable conduct in conscious and reckless disregard of Hester's rights and interests, such that the conduct warrants the imposition of punitive damages in a sum appropriate to punish

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Contract Against All Defendants)

- Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations of Paragraphs 1 through 25 above, and incorporates those allegations herein by reference.
- 32. Defendants anticipatorily repudiated and materially breached the Agreement by, among other things, improperly attempting to rescind their exercise of the option to engage Hester's services for Cycle 4 of the Series.
- 33. Hester has performed all conditions, covenants and promises required pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, except to the extent such performance was waived, excused or prevented by reason of the acts or omissions of Defendants.
- 34. As a direct and proximate result of the anticipatory repudiation and material breach of the Agreement by Defendants, Hester has suffered general and special damages for, inter alia, the loss of the compensation he would have received in connection with Cycle 4 of the Series, in an amount in excess of Seven Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000), according to proof at the time of trial.
- 35. Hester is also entitled to an award of his reasonable attorney's fees and costs pursuant to Paragraph 23 of the Agreement and California Civil Code section 1717.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing Against All Defendants)

- 36. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations of Paragraph 1 through 25 above, and incorporates those allegations herein by reference.
- 37. Inherent in every contract is an implied condition and covenant that the parties will act in good faith and that no party will engage in conduct that is designed to and/or has the natural effect of depriving any other party of the benefits for which the parties bargained under the contract. Such implied covenant existed in the Agreement between Hester and Defendants.

- 38. Defendants breached the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing by, among other things seeking to rescind their exercise of the option to engage Hester's services for Cycle 4 of the Series in retaliation for Hester complaining that he believed that Defendants were engaging in illegal, unethical and improper conduct by salting the storage lockers that are the subject of the Series.
- 39. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, Hester has suffered general and special damages for, inter alia, the loss of the compensation he would have received in connection with Cycle 4 of the Series, in an amount in excess of Seven Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000), according to proof at the time of trial.
- 40. Hester is also entitled to an award of his reasonable attorney's fees and costs pursuant to Paragraph 23 of the Agreement and California Civil Code section 1717.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Unfair Business Practices Against All Defendants)

- 41. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations of Paragraph 1 through 25 above, and incorporates those allegations herein by reference.
- Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon alleges that Defendants are engaging in a fraudulent, unethical and possibly illegal practice by salting and staging the storage lockers that are bid on by the participants on the Series.
- Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon alleges that Defendants' conduct is illegal and in violation of the Communications Act of 1934, and is likely to mislead the general public, as evidenced by the fact that AETN issued a false and fraudulent press release expressly denying rumors that the storage lockers were staged. Therefore, Defendants' conduct constitutes an unfair and fraudulent business act or practice under Business and Professions Code sections 17200, et seq.,
- 44. The foregoing acts and practices of Defendants as described hereinabove violate Business & Professions Code section 17200 because, among other reasons, they are unfair, fraudulent and deceptive. Thus, the unfair, fraudulent and deceptive practices of Defendants 27 28 constitute unlawful business acts or practices within the meaning of Business & Professions Code section 17200.

- As a direct and proximate result of aforesaid wrongful acts of Defendants, 45. Defendants have and/or will receive and hold ill-gotten gains resulting from their fraudulent, deceptive, unfair and illegal practices. Defendants' fraudulent practices have harmed Hester and the other participants on the Series since the auctions portrayed on the Series are intended to be a genuine and honest competition among the bidders, but Defendants have manipulated the outcome of the auctions shown on the Series by planting valuable items in certain lockers, staging entire storage units and paying for the storage lockers bid on by the weaker cast members on the Series to give them an unfair advantage over the rest of the participants. This fraudulent conduct has also harmed Hester's reputation and business since Defendants' behind the scenes manipulation of the results of the auctions has in some instances made it appear that he is less skillful than other cast members who are able to outbid Hester since Defendants are paying for the storage units they bid on or who have acquired storage units that have been salted with valuable items. In addition, Defendants' deceptive and fraudulent conduct has also duped members of the television viewing public into watching the Series and making it the highest rated non-fiction program on cable television.
- 46. Pursuant to Section 17203 of the of Business & Professions Code, and pursuant to the equitable powers of this Court, Plaintiff prays that Defendants be ordered to restore the parties injured by Defendants' unlawful conduct all funds acquired by means of any act or practice declared by this Court to be unlawful or fraudulent under Business & Professions Code section 17200.
- 47. Pursuant to Section 17203 of Business & Professions Code and the equitable powers of the Court, Plaintiff prays for a preliminary and permanent injunction, and an order restraining Defendants and each of them from engaging in the practice of salting the storage units that are the subject of the Series.
- 48. Plaintiff is informed and believes and based thereon alleges that the relief that it is seeking against Defendants as described above will confer a significant benefit on a large class of persons, and the necessity and financial burden on Plaintiff in bringing this action is such to make an award of attorney's fees to Plaintiff appropriate and that such fees in the interest justice should not be '	paid out of the recover, if any. Accordingly, Plantiff is entitled to an award of attorney's rees under

2	California Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5.
3	FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION
4	(Declaratory Relief Against All Defendants)
5	49. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations of Paragraph 1 through 25 above, and
6	incorporates those allegations herein by reference.
7	50. An actual controversy has arisen and now exists between Hester and Defendants
8	regarding their respective rights, duties and obligations under the Agreement.
9	51. Hester contends that Defendants have no right to rescind their exercise of the option
10	to engage Hester's services for Cycle 4 of the Series. Hester is informed and believes and based
11	thereon alleges that Defendants dispute the foregoing contention.
12	52. Accordingly, Hester seeks the following declaration of the parties' rights and duties
13	under the Agreement: (i) Defendants have exercised the option to engage Hester's services for Cycle
14	4 of the Series; (ii) Defendants have no right to rescind their exercise of the option to engage
15	Hester's services for Cycle 4 of the Series; and (iii) Defendants are obligated to pay Hester all
16	compensation he is entitled to receive in connection with Cycle 4 of the Series pursuant to the
17	Agreement.
18	53. Hester is also entitled to an award of his reasonable attorney's fees and costs
